Information additionnelle

Description: Looking for a great coastal cruiser and live aboard? For years, Rawson was well known in the pacific northwest for building rough and ready fishing boats along with a line of rugged but comfortable liveaboards. Solid construction, great cabin layout, reliable twin Detroit 4-53's, and a host of upgrades and improvements make this an ideal cruiser and live aboard for life in the Northwest. The hull is a hard-chine design with a raked and flared bow, and a plumb transom stern fitted with a swim step. There is a roomy foredeck followed by narrow side decks leading aft on either side of a raised pilothouse and the main cabin to a short aft cockpit. A flying bridge is fitted over the pilothouse with a full-console helm station followed by a boat deck with single davit. S.S. rails surround the decks. Recent upgrades make this very comfortable, the galley is wonderful. Tankage gives this cruiser a nice long range. A new Zodiac/outboard combo launched from the upper deck make the anchored out option easy. New rear hatch and deck just completed, looks great! Come see this boat and live your dream!
