This Bayfield is ready to go cruising off into the sunset. It has a lot of updated equipment.

1984 Bayfield 32C sailboat with 15 HP Yanmar diesel engine.

The seller recently made many upgrades and replacements. The winches were replaced, standing rigging and chain plates were replaced, the running rigging were replaced, the sails were replaced (have not been used yet) and the safety lines were replaced.

These are the main features of this vessel: The main sailing components were updated making her ready to sail. A mainsail, a Yankee sail, and a Jib are included in the sale. The Bayfield hulls were all made of solid fiberglass and fairly heavily laid up with mat and woven roving. Decks were cored with balsa, and in areas, with plywood.

Below decks is roomy for its size with plenty of room for up to 6 to sleep. The head is functional. The vessel has a modest galley with room for expansion.
