The key...great customer service. We love the marine industry and one of our core missions is to help raise the customer service bar in this industry.

However, the internet has completely transformed the way we do business. While traditional sales principles still very much apply (such as building a solid relationship with the customer, earning their trust, adding value, customer qualification, etc), how you get there is now very different. This Willard is a Rare Find as There Were Only 30 Built Beginning in 1973

This Willard is ready for just about any adventure on the water that you have planned.

She is a nice size at 30 feet with a beam of just over 10 feet. Lots of room for the Capitan and passengers for a day on the bay or an overnight stay at your favorite spot.

She is also ready for some Blue Water Adventures and has several such voyages already completed. There is a full inventory of sails, most with under 20 hours of use. She has transversed the pacific from California to Tonga and back

The inboard engine has been removed and replaced with a 9.9 Yamaha Outboard engine. This motor provides plenty of capability and is much safer with less maintenance than the original inboard engine.

She is rigged for single-handed sailing yet has plenty of room for friends and family.

Inside the cabin, you will find a comfortable living space with settees on both port and starboard sides, a stove and oven in the galley along with a stainless-steel sink.

The V-Berth is large and comfortable, with a head just in front of its entrance.

The owner has multiple uses for this boat including bay cruises, coastal cruising, and as a liveaboard.

However, the owner has had a change in lifestyle and has decided to pass this beauty on to someone eager to live or cruise on her.
