Accommodations

Vessel sleep six, 2 owners in master, 2 in guest berth, 2 in salon sofa.

Entering the main cabin from the aft cockpit through hinged door, a well-appointed salon greets you with the galley on the starboard side. The port side has a large U shaped settee that converts into a double berth. Forward and down 3 steps to port is the spacious head with shower; starboard is a guest stateroom with over and under berths. The master stateroom is forward with a full berth and good storage. All of the staterooms are well lighted with overhead lights and reading lights.

Throughout the vessel there are various hanging lockers, cupboards, drawers and storage areas. The cabin climate is maintained with a 2 zone marine air reverse cycle heat/air conditioning system.

Galley

A starboard side galley offers plenty of storage cabinets and counter space and features. The galley has a large counter top that is covered with a Corian counter top.

The Luhrs 350 Tournament has a massive stringer system and a hull that is well bulkheaded. The hull is balsa cored to the water line and the sides do not pant or flutter. The cockpit deck is cored with 6" squares of plywood, making it exceptionally rigid.

You'll appreciate that the aluminum fuel tank is installed properly, sitting on top of the stringers with no danger of crevice corrosion eating holes in the tank bottom at the resting points and then it has those great heavy hard vinyl rub rail with stainless molding that is not prone to denting or breaking up.

Luhrs managed to use a lot of the right stuff in the right places. This Tournament Luhrs offers both a large cockpit and a roomy interior. The Salon is very well thought out. Her rakish profile and deep V hull with 18 degrees of deadrise and her wide side decks, make her real easy going forward. She's Fish Equipped, has a bait prep area, fish storage, and transom door for hauling in the "big one"! This boat is clean throughout and well maintained.
