The key...great customer service. We love the marine industry and one of our core missions is to help raise the customer service bar in this industry.

However, the internet has completely transformed the way we do business. While traditional sales principles still very much apply (such as building a solid relationship with the customer, earning their trust, adding value, customer qualification, etc), how you get there is now very different. Awesome Cobalt Express Cruiser, fun for the entire family on any body of water

Not only well known for their fit and finish, Cobalt boats are also well known for their most comfortable ride on the water. This 1999 Cobalt 293 is no exception.

Ruggedly constructed with graceful styling, the Cobalt 293 provides every comfort and convenience one could ask for those weekend trips to the island or day trips to the local lake for a day of watersports.

The large lounge in the cockpit includes a removable cockpit table, a wet bar with a sink and built-in fridge, and a showerhead to spritz off the dirt and salt before climbing into the boat.

There's a good amount of storage onboard, including the trunk and the under sole storage compartment in the cockpit.

The helm has a nice bench seat, with a chaise lounge opposite for catching rays, and visibility from the driver's seat is great for boating in any body of water.

In the Cabin you'll find a large V-berth that comfortably sleeps two and doubles as a dinette, an enclosed head with a small galley for making snacks and meals.

The Sony stereo takes care of your entertainment needs.

Under the hood are two powerful Mercruiser 350 Mag MPI engines hooked up with efficient Bravo Three outdrives.
