sailing catamaran.

This boat will make your bluewater sailing experience enjoyable due to the spacious layout. Island Packet always gives thought to the ability to entertain guests with plenty of privacy to boot.

Note a comfortable layout in the cockpit with easy access from the stern boarding platforms on each hull. All lines are led aft to the cockpit on the housetop, and the sheet winches are conveniently lined up along the aft coaming.

The generous foredeck is a dream for the sunbathers. Easy under foot with skid-free deck and easy molded steps.

Delightful interior spaces. Step down into the center saloon area. There is a generous lounge. The dining table stows folded against the starboard bulkhead.

Here is a cool detail: A convenient serving window to allow food to be passed to the cockpit.

The boat has so much light from the generous sized hatches and abundant portholes.

Note the galley is part of the main pod - no squeezing into one of the hulls to bend and reach for pots and pans. And, the cook remains part of the conversation.

It's a perfect layout for two couples. There is no master stateroom. Both queen berths have hanging lockers and private heads with full standing showers.

Every area of the interior makes use of space for storage.

The twin Yanmars are easily accessed through both heads.

Custom dinghy davits and arch were installed by the previous owner.

No dinghy - just the davits for one.
