Description

Stock #326883 - Detroit Diesel 6v92, Tons of updates, Religiously maintained, 3 cabins! The Chris Craft Constellation 500 is one of the most successful Motor Yachts built and this 1986 model has been constantly updated and cared for. It's powered by recently serviced and reliable twin Detroit 6V92 main engines with 620 hours and a 20 kW Onan generator. The three-cabin layout with multiple living spaces gives you the feel of a much larger yacht and offers comfort and all the essential amenities, including a flybridge, lower helm station, upper and lower area living spaces, and a galley with loads of storage and prep cooking areas. A very private aft master stateroom with a huge head and shower area as well as a mid-ship berth that can double as a home office. Boarding via port and starboard wing doors you enter into the aft salon/helm area. There is a door on starboard leading to a small aft deck for outdoor relaxing and line handling. There is a stainless ladder that leads up to the spacious and well laid out flybridge that offers plenty of seating and great visibility. The lower helm has all the basics but some of the electronics are rather dated. Moving forward and down 3 steps puts you into the midship salon with electrical panel distribution center on port and dining and seating arrangements. Access to the engine and mechanical space is directly below salon level floor via a deck hatch. The galley is down 1 step on starboard and has a refrigerator, electric stove top, microwave and stainless sink with pressure H/C water. Moving forward and down a step has an over/under single berths, head with shower and ample storage closets, one which can be used as a laundry center. Moving back aft on centerline and down a couple of steps has the guest/office cabin on starboard and head across on port. The master is full beam all the way aft and has a large head area with shower and tub. We are looking for people all over the country who share our love for boats.
