Description

Stock #509433 - 2009 STINGRAY 270CS EXPRESS CRUISER VOLVO PENTA INBOARD/OUTBOARD, INCLUDES TRAILERDiscover the enduring appeal of a 2009 Stingray 240CS, a thoughtfully engineered cuddy cruiser from a brand that has built its reputation on solid American craftsmanship and real-world performance since 1979. Stingray, a family-owned builder in South Carolina, focuses on quality that is engineered in rather than added later. Their patented Z-Plane hull design delivers efficient planing, responsive handling, and strong fuel economy, while advanced manufacturing processes and consistent customer satisfaction recognition over the years reflect a commitment to durable fiberglass construction and dependable sterndrive systems. Owners value the combination of spirited on-water manners and practical value that has defined the brand for decades. Step aboard the 240CS and the layout immediately reveals why it earns its reputation as a versatile weekender. At roughly 23 feet 6 inches overall with a generous 8-foot 6-inch beam, the boat balances trailerable convenience with surprising interior volume. The cockpit centers on a wide double helm seat for comfortable cruising, a rear-facing lounge to port, and a broad aft bench, creating flexible seating for day runs or relaxed gatherings. An integrated motorbox sunpad adds lounging space, while the walk-through windshield opens easy access to the contoured bow seating and storage. Below, the cabin is arranged for overnight comfort: a convertible V-berth forward pairs with a surprisingly roomy mid-cabin berth that accommodates two adults, giving the boat true four-person sleeping capacity. An enclosed stand-up head with sink, handheld shower, and storage doubles as a private changing area.A compact galley on the port side includes a sink, stove, icebox, and cabinetry so simple meals can be prepared without leaving the boat. Screened ports, a mid-cabin window, and a large deck hatch bring in light and air, making the space feel open rather than confined. The home-made camper canvas can enclose the cockpit for added weather protection and extended living area. Key features reinforce everyday usability and enjoyment. The modified-Vee hull with 21-degree deadrise provides a stable ride, while a 68-gallon fuel tank supports longer outings. Freshwater capacity, an insulated ice/storage box, stainless hardware, a performance notched transom, and an integrated non-skid swim platform with boarding ladder complete a package designed for both recreation and simple overnighting. Whether you are seeking a comfortable day cruiser that can also serve as a floating getaway, the 2009 Stingray 240CS delivers a refined balance of brand integrity, intelligent layout, and practical amenities that continue to make sense on the water.
