400 SS.

This 2000 Formula 400 SS is powered by twin Mercruiser Racing HP500 EFI with Bravo outdrives and stainless steel duo-props.

She is kept stored high and dry, the bottom paint and the upholstery, canvas, and isinglass are all in great shape.

The Super Sport cockpit features the Formula hallmark lounge and table arrangement that converts to a large sunning area.

The helm is laid out nicely with accessory switches at your fingertips. The electronics include a GPSmap 512. The twin Bimini tops provide multiple shade options and the isinglass and black canvas enclosure appear like new.

There's a cooler and freshwater sink on deck. Walk through the transom door and jump off the integrated swim platform that has a telescoping swim ladder.

Forward on the helm take a few steps up and the windshield opens up to the spacious bow with a full rail. Waves won't be a problem with this 40-foot beauty! A Lewmar windlass makes handling the anchor and chain simple with the push of a button.

Down below, the large cabin opens wide with hatches throughout and plenty of headroom. The forward V lounge converts to a berth for 4 to sleep and the additional mid-cabin features a queen-sized mattress.

In the galley, there is a good-sized fridge to port, a single burner stove, a microwave oven, and a sink with lots of counter space and cabinets.

To starboard, there is a Vacuflush head and a separate shower seat and sink. A hanging locker too.

Hot and cold water onboard and 240 gallons of fuel capacity gives plenty of range.
